Camden, NJ – The Food Trust, in collaboration with local artist Bert Trinidad, the Camden County Department of Health and Camden Lutheran Housing Inc., invite members of the media and Camden residents to come together on Tuesday, November 22, 11:30 a.m.-12:00 p.m. to celebrate the unveiling of Welcome to North Camden, a mural created by and for the Camden community.

This mural, the first of two planned as part of the mural project Paint North Camden, is the result of a community engagement process through which Camden residents participated in focus groups and took surveys in order to generate ideas for a mural that celebrates healthy lifestyles. The Food Trust supports “health hubs” like Litwin by providing marketing materials, nutrition education and health education to ensure consistent messaging inside and outside of the store.

Camden Mayor Vic Carstarphen and The Food Trust President & CEO Mark Edwards will give remarks to commemorate this special occasion, and attendees are invited to participate in The Food Trust’s Heart Smarts nutrition education programming, as well as receive $5 in Heart Bucks coupons that can be redeemed for heart-healthy items at Litwin Food Market.
