

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

May 6, 2026

CONTACT:

Alex Styer

astyer@bellevuepr.com

267-838-3165

The Food Trust Offers FREE Mother's Day Portraits at Headhouse Farmers Market

PHILADELPHIA- On Sunday, May 10, The Food Trust will celebrate Mother's Day at its weekly Headhouse Farmers Market in Old City by offering FREE portraits by professional photographer Alex McDonnell.

To celebrate all the moms and mom figures who are often behind the camera, The Food Trust invites attendees to have their portrait taken from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the iconic Headhouse shambles. Portraits will be made available by scanning a QR code and inputting name and email for electronic delivery shortly after the event.

Headhouse Farmers Market, one of the city's largest and longest-running year-round farmers market locations, features more than 40 vendors on a weekly rotating basis, from fruit and vegetable farmers to purveyors of poultry and eggs, to stalls featuring baked goods, honey, cheese, fresh-cut flowers, coffee, wine and spirits, and much more. Longtime flower vendor Longview Flower Farm will have Mother's Day bouquets for sale (preorders are encouraged; visit instagram.com/longviewflowers for details).

For a complete list of market vendors this week, please visit: <https://thefoodtrust.org/what-we-do/farmers-markets/headhouse/>

- WHO: The Food Trust
Photographer Alex McDonnell
More than 40 Farmers Market vendors
Hundreds of Farmers Market shoppers
- WHAT: FREE Mother's Day Portraits at Headhouse Farmers Market
- WHEN: Sunday, May 10
Photography sessions: 11 a.m. - 1 p.m.
Full Farmers Market Hours: 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

WHERE: Headhouse Shambles, 2nd and Lombard Streets
Philadelphia, PA 19106